

MUSCAT DE HAMBOURG

Clone 202

Wine and table grape variety. Grape maturity: period II. This variety has moderate to strong vigor. The grape clusters are mod rate to large and the berries are moderate to large size with a moderately thick skin and muscaté flavor pulp.

MORE INFO

Features

- This variety has moderate to strong vigor with horizontal growth or semi-trailing.
- The vines must be carefully trained and preferably planted in moderately fertile soil.
- Muscat de Hambourg N is likewise rather sensitive to black stem.
- Muscat de Hambourg N is sensitive to oidium, downy mildew, phomopsis in addition to mites and vine caterpillars.
- On the other hand, it is not very sensitive to grey rot.

Technological potential

- The grape clusters are moderate to large and the berries are moderate to large size with a moderately thick skin and muscaté flavor pulp.
- Muscat de Hambourg N has good storage capacity and moderate capacity for being transported.
- Muscat de Hambourg N has low sugar and color potential.
- This variety can likewise be used to make still wine, sparkling wine and grape juice.

To eat

Red/pink grapevines

Seed

0 - 1000m

Half maturation

Elevated production